CHAPTER I

The first settlement in the city of Boston was made by a party of Englishmen, who, in the year 1630, sailed from England, and landed at the point now called the North End. They were accompanied by their families, and a large number of servants, and they brought with them a great quantity of provisions, and other necessaries for their subsistence. They were met by a party of Indians, who, in the year 1630, had been converted to the Christian religion, and they were very friendly to the Englishmen, and they showed them the way to the place now called the South End. The Englishmen then built a fort, and they called it the City of Boston.
